

Types of legacy

There are three types of gifts you could leave to Saint Catherine's:

Residuary Gift - a portion, or the entirety, of everything that remains after other specific gifts, expenses and taxes have been paid.

Pecuniary Gift - a gift of a set amount of money. Speak to your solicitor about index-linking the gift to maintain its value in the future.

Specific Gift - a specific item, such as a piece of furniture or jewellery.

Please discuss these options with your legal advisor when making your will.

Whichever type of gift you choose to leave, please include our name, address and charity number to ensure that the legacy is valid:

About Saint Catherine's

Our patients and their families often tell us that the care they have received from Saint Catherine's has gone far beyond their expectations. They tell us that as well as easing pain and relieving symptoms, we have shown compassion, treated them as individuals and helped them to maintain their dignity when it mattered most.

We are so grateful to the many people who choose to support Saint Catherine's by leaving us a gift in their will. These gifts are incredibly important to us and mean that we can keep providing vital services for the growing number of local people who will need our care and support in the future. We understand that when making a will, your priority is looking after your family and others who are close to you. It can also be a wonderful opportunity to support a cause you are passionate about and make a lasting difference.

It costs £5.5 million a year to provide our services, free of charge, to patients and their families from an area of more than 1,600 square miles, including Scarborough, Filey, Bridlington, Whitby and Ryedale. By leaving a gift in your will, you can be a part of something truly special. Thank you.

Why make a will?

There are four main reasons why you should make a will:

1. To make things easier for your family or executor*

Without a will this can be more time consuming and stressful for them.

2. To ensure your wishes are met

Without a will everything will be shared out in a standard way defined by law, which may not be what you would want.

3. To reduce inheritance tax

A will can help reduce the amount of inheritance tax that may be payable.

4. To ensure those you care about are looked after

A will is especially important if you have children or other family who depend on you financially, or if you want to leave something to people outside your immediate family or causes you care about.

*an executor is someone you choose to take responsibility for administering your estate after you have died.
